DRIVING LESSONS: Guidance for the Road(s) Most Traveled

Getting from Here to There in a car is a near-universal (and sometimes frustrating) experience for us. At this retreat we'll take a look at the challenges and surprises we encounter on those journeys, and reflect on what they can teach us about navigating the path of walking with Christ. (Spoiler alert: expect a lot of "recalculating" along the way.)

The Weekend

The weekend starts with check-in from 4-6pm on Friday, April 24 at Sandy Cove Retreat Center. Activities begin with dinner on Friday from 5:30-6:45pm, followed by a Welcome and Session 1. The retreat concludes around noon on Sunday, April 26, following our time of worship.

Friday Evening: Where Do You Want to Go?

Saturday Morning: Driving in Traffic

Saturday Afternoon: Road Signs

Saturday Evening: Recalculating

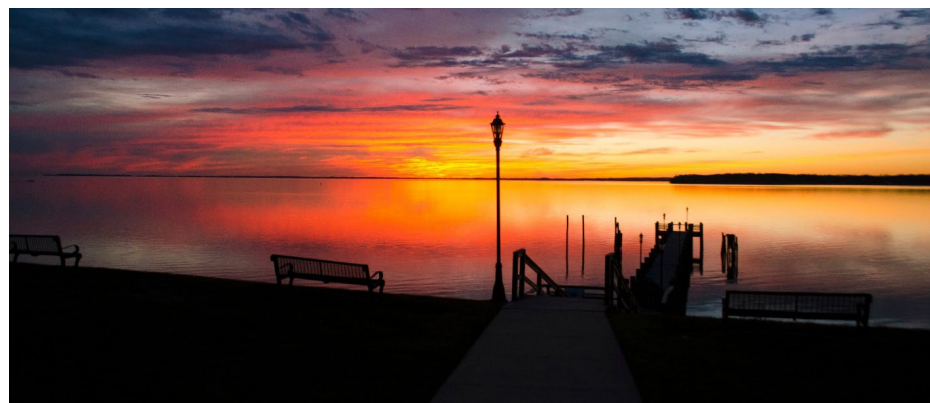

Sunday Morning: On the Road Again

Meet Steve Clark

Steve retired in January after more than 41 years as a Presbyterian pastor, having served congregations in Washington, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Delaware. He served many of those congregations together with his wife Jennie. In addition to a Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree from Princeton Seminary, he holds a Master of Theology (Th.M.) degree in leadership from Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, CA. Steve and Jennie have two married children and five grandchildren, which they look forward to seeing more of in retirement! He enjoys playing the guitar, reading, and seeing a good movie or play... with Jennie, of course!

Sandy Cove Retreat Center

Located at the confluence of the Northeast River and the Chesapeake Bay, the setting of Sandy Cove Retreat Center provides the ideal backdrop for an opportunity to reflect, refresh and renew. Complimenting this bucolic location are dining facilities and room accommodations that will provide ample nourishment and comfort. The retreat includes five meals and room accommodations.
